A Fly's Mouth.

No part of fly structure is more wonderful than the mouth. Watch a common fly alight on a piece of sugar. From the under surface of the head, apparently, is unfolded a long organ looking very like an additional leg; and with this the fly scrapes the sugar, licks up the cream, spolintes the jam, and effects destruction in other and varied ways. To understand what the organ in question is, let us briefly glance at the typical structure of the insect mouth. Four sets of organs or appendages compose the "mouth." There is first an upper lip, then a pair of large jaws, then a pair of lesser jaws—forming a tube or tongue in butterflies—and, last of all, a lower lip. In a beetle the chief mouth organs are the greater and lesser jaws, while in a bee or wasp the jaws are also well developed for the work of the hive, but the under lip forms a "tongue" wherewith the bee sucks up honey from the flowers. Now in the fly the mouth parts are of modified nature. Speaking generally, the "jaws" are represented by small bristle-like organs, and the upper lip is developed; but it is the labium, or under lip, which comes to the front in the development of the fly's mouth. Here it forms, as in the bees, the chief organ of nutrition. It is the under lip which we see unfolded from beneath the head when the fly attacks the sugar. And, when we place this organ beneath the microscope, we can readily discover the secret of its service.

The "tongue," as we may term the under lip, consists of a stalk highly movable and muscular, at the end of which a couple of broad leaves expand outward from the middle to form a sucker-like organ, beautifully adapted for licking up fluids and for scratching solid matters also. This fan-like end is supported on a firm tubular frame-work, acting as a set of springs to open and shut the fans, while the microscope shows us that this structure is really like a file or rasp in its nature. We can understand, then, readily enough how such a muscular organ can be used for the purposes of fly nourishment. When, after a summer of flies, the morocco covers of our books and the finely-polished surfaces of our furniture are scratched and eroded, we can readily appreciate the cause of the damage. With this file it wages war even on ourselves. For, as a famous authority on insects remarks, it is by its means that the fly "teases us in the heat of summer, when it alights on the hand or face to sip the perspiration as it exudes from and is condensed upon the skin."—Harper's Weekly.

The Howling of a Dog.

To hear a dog howl in the night has been regarded of old with the same dislike as in modern times, and arises from the belief that the dog can see things which are not visible to other eyes. In the "Odyssey," when the dogs knew Athene, they "fled to the stalls' far side," and the dogs of the North were conscious "wenn Hel umgeht." Rabbi Bechai, in his "Exposition of the Five Books of Moses," says: "Our Rabbins of blessed memory have said when the dogs howl then cometh the angel of death into the city; but when the dogs are at play then cometh Elias into the city;" and in the exposition of another Rabbi: "Our Rabbins of blessed memory have said, when the angel of death enters into a city the dogs do howl. And I have seen it written by one of the disciples of Rabbi Jehudo the Just, that upon a time a dog did howl, and clapt his tail between his legs, and went aside for fear of the angel of death, and somebody coming and kicking the dog to the place from which he had fled, the dog presently died." German peasants believe that if a dog barks looking upward a recovery may be expected, but if he looks toward the earth death is certain. In Cornwall the howling of a dog is always a sad sign, but "if repeated for three nights, the house against which it howled will soon be in mourning." In Lancashire, where the death-tick is still feared, it is reported as "a curious circumstance" that the real death-tick must only tick three times on each occasion. When we remember that Mr. Darwin says that death-ticks (Anobim tessellatum) are known to answer to each other's ticking, or, as he has personally observed, a tapping noise artificially made, it is evident that if a Lancashire maid is disturbed by the three dread ticks, she should wait for answering ticks, or stimulate them by an artificial tick, before allowing her superstitious fears to get the better of her reason.—Belgravia.

"Good morning Willie," said the pastor, saluting the boy affectionately. "I suppose the folks are all well at home?" "Pretty well," returned Will; "the cook's drunk, sister Sal's got the measles and ma jawed the old man sick last night."

Bread Making in Spain.

The bread in the South of Spain is delicious; it is white as snow, close as cake, and yet very light; the flour is most admirable, for the wheat is good and pure, and the bread well kneaded. The way they make this bread is as follows: From large, long panniers filled with wheat they take out a handful at a time, sorting it most carefully and expeditiously, and throwing every imperfect grain into another basket. This done, the wheat is ground between two circular stones, as it was ground in Egypt 2,000 years ago, the requisite rotary motion being given by a blindfolded mule, which paces around and around with untiring patience, a bell being attached to his neck, which, as long as he is in movement, tinkles on; and when it stops he is urged on to his duty by the shout of "arra mula" from some one within hearing. When ground, the wheat is sifted through three sieves, the last of these being so fine that only the pure flour can pass through it, this is of a pure apricot color. The bread is made in the evening. It is mixed with sufficient water, with a little salt in it, to make into dough. A very small quantity of leaven or yeast in one batch of household bread, as in Spain, would last a week for the six or eight donkey loads of bread they send every day from their oven. The dough made, it is put into sacks and carried on donkeys' backs to the oven in the center of the village, to bake it immediately after kneading. On arriving there the dough is divided into portions weighing about three pounds each. Two long, narrow, wooden tables on trestles are then placed down the room, and a curious sight may be seen. About twenty men, bakers, come in and range themselves on one side of the table. A lump of dough is handed to the nearest, which he begins kneading and knocking about with all his might for about three or four minutes, and then passes it on to his neighbor, who does the same, and so on successively until all have kneaded it, when it becomes soft as new putty and ready for the oven. Of course, as soon as the first baker has handed the lump to his neighbor, another lump is given to him, and so on until the whole quantity of dough is kneaded by them all. The bakers' wives and daughters shape the loaves for the oven, and some of them are very small. They are baked immediately.

Moisture in the House.

In all the dwelling rooms of a house, says a writer, winter brings increased use with less ventilation. Consequently, little defects of cleanliness that quite take care of themselves in the summer may cause much trouble in winter. Typhoid fever is more of a winter than a summer disease. Most of the epidemics affecting the skin are more apt to prevail in the winter or early spring. Their relationship to confined dwellings and to the aggregations both of persons and things during the cold months is no longer doubted. Whether filth will originate this or that disease will long be a question of doubtful disputation; but that filth is the nestling place of disease and chiefly gives it extension and virulence is no longer doubted. Some of our physicians are now turning close attention to questions of winter salubrity. It is claimed that much of the value of Florida in the winter is owing to a climate which permits one to be much in open houses. To those at all disposed either to pulmonary or bronchial ailments our modes of heating and of winter ventilation are very embarrassing. Carbonic acid mingles too much with the other gases given out from coal, and produces irritation of the breathing apparatus. The dry heat parches the skin, and so embarrasses the functions of interior organs. The value of the bath is as great in winter as in summer. Indeed, in city life it seems almost indispensable as a means of overcoming the undue dryness and restoring the proper temperature through the skin. In the last few years there has been much discussion as to the need of moisture, as provided in the furnace or on stoves. The only certain way is to test the amount of actual moisture in the room atmosphere. It is hardly possible to provide so much moisture in this way as to get those effects which we get in summer from excessive moisture in the atmosphere. Often stoves are surmounted with urns so bright that the water is scarcely at all evaporated by the heat. We are satisfied, after a careful looking over the evidence, that we should generally in winter have some artificial plan for adding moisture to the house atmosphere. The great problem of how to have warm and moist air, and get pure air where persons are living closely, still has many unfulfilled conditions.

He who is false to present duty breaks a thread in the loom, and will see the defect when the weaving of a lifetime is unrolled.

DYSENTERY CHOLERA FEVER AGUE, COUGHS, COLDS.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Medical Staff.)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's. See Times, July, 12, 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—diphtheria, fever, croup, ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in diarrhœa and is the only specific in cholera and dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of epilepsy, hysteria, palpitations and spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, cancer, toothache, meningitis, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne. See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay.—"Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports [December, 1865] that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug. 1, 1869, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne; that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the words "Dr J. Collis Browne" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Sole Manufacturer, J. T. Davenport, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 23RD, 1881.

THE TAKOU MINES AND VICTORIA.

"Distant fields are green;" and it may be their remoteness from Victoria that lends enchantment to the Takou quartz diggings; but from whatsoever cause the feeling may arise, it cannot be denied that a marked change has come over the public mind regarding the recent reported discoveries in the Takou country. From skepticism to uncertainty, and from uncertainty to reality is often but a step. A few days ago every one hereabouts doubted the existence of goldbearing quartz in the 30-mile coast belt. Experts from California who passed the winter at the new locality brought back any but favorable intelligence. They found the lodes buried 40 feet beneath snow drifts. The few specimens they were able to secure were neither rich nor promising in appearance. But a few warm days and nights in June have changed the scene. The snow is gone, the veins are bare, prospecting is possible and specimens of rock with free gold plainly visible are readily obtained. With the rudest appliances gold in quantities that will pay well for working has been pounded from the rock, and sacksful of the ore are now on the way to San Francisco where they will be submitted to further test. Indeed, the existence of gold-bearing quartz at Takou has been clearly demonstrated. The only question that remains to be determined is the character of the veins. Are they true fissure veins, or are they merely spurs? If the former, Alaska Territory (and perhaps the whole British Columbia coast line) will immediately awaken from its slumber of ages and take its place among the principal gold-producing sections of the earth. If the latter, an end will be soon reached and the bright dreams of "DUTCH GEORGE" and his fellow prospectors speedily dissipated, and the Aladdin's Palace their imaginations have already reared will vanish into thin air. To test and determine the value of the new ledges will require an outlay of much capital and time, and the exercise of the cardinal virtue patience. The quartz veins of Takou will, doubtless, be found to extend into the Cassiar district, which lies in Canadian territory. Takou river, from which the diggings take their name, rises in British territory, and for only 30 miles of its length courses through the Alaskan or American possessions. The importance of these new mines to Victoria will be found in the trade they will bring to swell the coffers of our merchants. The admirable situation of this port for coast traffic is acknowledged, and as the mineral, fossil and fish wealth of the northwestern coast is opened out Victoria should grow and prosper beyond all precedent. No combination of circumstances can change her commanding geographical position; and as she will always control the coast trade her importance as a commercial entrepôt can never be successfully assailed. All Victorians have got to do is to repose faith and confidence in their future, to be enterprising and vigilant; to which closely the development of the country's resources; to be ever on the alert to take advantage of every opening that may offer, and the future permanency of their city will be secured beyond the shadow of a doubt.

THE DOUGLAS MEMORIAL.

The shabby treatment the Douglas memorial committee are receiving at the hands of the Premier is generally condemned. A more appropriate spot for the erection of the memorial than the lawn in front of the government buildings could not be found. It is the only place in or near the Capital where the shaft which is intended to memorialize the man who founded the province and the future great metropolis of the British Pacific should be placed. Public opinion is pronounced in favor of the square; but the Premier, to gratify, we fear, a feeling of private resentment against a member of the dead statesman's family, declines to accede to the demand. In a communication which was read before the committee on Tuesday Mr. WALKEM explained that he could not authorize the use of the square for the purpose without first having obtained the sanction of the legislature. This statement is, to use the mildest expression admissable, a subterfuge, to which Mr. WALKEM should blush to resort. He has the fullest power. Every one knows that who knows anything. He may deal with the square as he sees fit. Of course, he is responsible to the legislature in the end; but who among the 25 members would venture to question the propriety of an act which the popular voice has approved in advance and for which there is abundant precedent. The greatest possible liberty has been taken with the square by this government. In one year $36,000 was expended in enlarging the buildings and draining and beautifying the grounds, and the only action the House was asked to take was to go through the form of voting the money after it had been spent. The desire of the government is said to be to banish the shaft to Beacon Hill, where it would soon fall a prey to relic hunters or serve as a mark for the aim of youthful pothunters. The committee should insist upon space being alloted in the square, and if the government should continue stiffnecked and perverse on the subject, the committee should box the obelisk and await the advent to power of a premier who will not allow his private feelings to interfere with the discharge of his public duties.

BY ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE COLONIST.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

ARIZONA.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A dispatch from Tombstone, Arizona, says particulars of the killing of the Hazlett brothers, who killed Leonard and Harvy Head, the Contention stage robbers, last week, by cowboys, are received. They were surprised by a party of 20 cowboys while playing cards in a saloon at Eureka and had no chance to defend themselves. Bill Hazlett was shot six times through the bowels and Jake twice through the body.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 21. — The Cornell crew rowed over the course in splendid form.

LONDON, June 21. — The walking match is practically over. Weston is lightheaded and has been put to bed. Rowell has made 269 and Weston 198 miles.

EASTERN STATES.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 21.—The Duke of Sutherland arrived to-night. When asked about Tichborne interview Bull Run Russell said it is no such thing. "I believe from what I have heard the news is a humbug. There is a lawyer in California by the name of Gen'l Barnes and while we were there we met him on the train and he told us about the claimant, but there is nothing in it. The story is utterly absurd." "No," said the Duke, "We never saw the man. He may be a claimant for all we know; but we don't know anything about it."

IRELAND.

LONDON, June 21.—Advices from Dublin to night say that quietness prevails throughout the country, the farmers having harvested the biggest hay crops known for 50 years. The root crops promise to be unprecedently abundant.

Archbishop McCabe's pastoral of Sunday denouncing the league and sharply reminding the clergy that their mission is not to incite an aggressive war, but to promote peace and concord, has thrown the leaguers into confusion. It is known, however, that Dr. McCabe is in this, as in many other instances, the direct mouthpiece of the people and the pastoral will have much weight not only in the arch diocese of Dublin, but throughout Ireland.

LONDON, June 21.—The News understands that communications with the United States government in regard to incentives to crimes in the United Kingdom, published by Irish papers in America, will be conducted at Washington through Lionel Sackville West, the successor of Sir Edward Thornton. Among the articles to which the attention of the Washington Cabinet will be called is one speaking of what is called "Last visit of the Prince of Wales to the Continent," and including methods by which fatal railway accidents might be produced with impunity, and another consisting of what professes to be an account of the trial of Gladstone by a secret society, followed by his condemnation and death.

DUBLIN, June 21.—The Irish census shows a population of 5,159,849, being a decrease of 253,538 since 1871.

The True Singer Machine.

The undersigned respectfully informs the public of British Columbia that he has now on hand a large number of the True Singer Sewing Machines of different styles, which are of recent manufacture and have all the late improvements and attachments, making them capable of performing any description of work in the best and most rapid manner. It is proper that I again caution the public against being deceived by the representations in the advertisement of another agent, who pretends to offer Singer Machines at a ridiculously low price, which machines are represented to be equal to the True Singer Machines. These inferior machines are known to the trade as being poor indeed, and can be sold at $20 each, and even then have very few purchasers, as they are merely a cheap Canadian machine, endeavoring, to some extent, to imitate the True Singer Machine. Every machine I sell or send on trial is guaranteed both in price and quality, and the True Singer Machine at $50 is the lowest price at which it can be imported direct from the factory and sold in this market. Owing to the patents for all sewing machines having run out four or five years ago, companies have sprung up in every part of the Union for making an "Imitation Singer Machine." Why are not similar companies formed for making imitations of other Sewing Machines? The public will draw its own inference. Gold is continually counterfeited; brass and tin never! Hence the reason why the Singer has been imitated. I am prepared at any time to prove, by trials of the respective machines made in Montreal and those manufactured by the Original Singer Machine Company, that the Montreal Singer, which is advertised for $35, cannot and does not perform the work of the True Singer Machine sold by me.

W. H. ADAMS,
Sole Agent for B.C. of the True Singer Sewing Machine

It is a wise precaution to provide against emergencies that are liable to arise in every family. A cold may be a dangerous thing, or not, depending upon the means at hand to combat it. In sudden attacks of cold, croup, asthma, etc., Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will prove the quickest and most effective cure and your best friend. *

TO THE PUBLIC.

In consequence of the patents of the Singer sewing machines having expired you can by calling at the Sewing Machine Depot, Fort street, purchase the handsomest and best Singer Machines ever imported into this province for the sum of $35. Do not be talked into paying three prices for an inferior style of Singer, but come and judge for yourselves, for seeing is believing.

T. W. FLETCHER, dealer in all the latest and most modern sewing and knitting machines, Victoria. *

Through to Yale at Sumass.

TO THE EDITOR.—Your manly support of the interests of the settlers of Sumass and Chilliwhack by exposing the conspiracy inaugurated at New Westminster against the Western Slope is meeting with hearty approval all over this settlement. The boat has been doing good service all along the river. We get our goods regularly at fair rates and landed in good condition. Why should New Westminster try to defeat our interest for the sake of putting a little money in the public houses of that place?

The people here are under a debt of gratitude to you for exposing the selfishness of New Westminster. The two papers published in that city are losing ground here fast, and yours, sir, THE independent paper of the province, is getting a firmer hold than ever. Every one praises The Colonist for its manly and outspoken articles in favor of the "Through to Yale route" and "public interests." SUMASS.

DENTISTRY.—Mr. R. B. Thompson, Dentist. Nitrous Oxide Gas (Laughing Gas) administered for the painless extraction of teeth. Reduced charges for plate work. Office, upstairs in the Old Masonic Building, Government street. Hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p. m. *

DR. C. E. GEIGER, Homœopathic Physician and Surgeon, Johnson street, near corner of Broad. *

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT.

AN AMERICAN COMPANY AFTER THE ISLAND LANDS.

The Effect Disastrous to Canadian and Imporial Interests on the Pacific.

H. Villard, who recently purchased the Starr Line of steamboats, the Seattle coal mines, and who has also control of the Northern Pacific railroad, has, it is rumored on good authority, opened negotiations pointing to the acquisition of the coal belt on the East Coast of this Island. The title to these lands is still vested in the province and the only good coal on the Pacific Coast is comprised in the belt. This land has been held in reserve since 1874 for railway purposes and should Mr. Villard and his associates agree to construct the Island railway in return for the lands, is is more than likely that the provincial government will be prepared to pass the belt over to the American syndicate. The effect of such an arrangement would be to place the coal lands in the province in the hands of foreigners at whose mercy the Canadian Pacific and the Imperial Navy would then be for their coal supply.

Another New Industry.

In the Eastern provinces and states and also in California all sorts of wire articles, both ornamental and useful, are largely manufactured. A reference to the illustrated catalogue of the California Wire Works Co. will show to what extent this industry is carried in San Francisco. A young man named Niel Doherty, who served a six years' apprenticeship in that extensive establishment, is about starting a wire works shop on Yates street near the Oriental saloon, where a thousand and one useful and decorative articles will be made to order or to suit the market in this particular line. Flower stands and baskets of every description, brackets and designs for floral work, fenders, fireguards and screens, show, hat, figure, form and other stands, business signs, etc., etc., will be made at San Francisco prices, thus saving to purchasers the cost of freight and duty. An industry of this sort, although commenced in a very small way, will, if patronized as it should be, grow to be of importance and open the way for some of the many youths in this city to learn and become engaged in an interesting branch of manufacture.

DESTRUCTION TO TREE LIFE.—The black frost in the first part of May proved more destructive to vegetable growth than was at first feared. Young trees of all kinds suffered severely; but the havoc among cherries was greater than among any other varieties of fruit trees. Hundreds of mature cherry trees are slowly dying—bleeding to death, and in some of the orchards every third tree will have to be replaced in the fall.

PRAYER IN SCHOOLS.—So far as we can hear none of the school trustee boards has as yet ordered the use of the Lord's Prayer in the public schools. There are some great sticklers for the form if not the substance of religion on some of the boards. Is it not time that they began to make their influence felt?

THE WIDOW BEDOTT CO. will arrive by the Idaho to-night and will appear at Theatre Royal to-morrow. A great many seats have been engaged, but many choice locations remain untaken.

H. MANSELL, the fashionable boot and shoe dealer and maker opposite this office, has received large additions of fashionable goods to his stock. See advertisement.

THE regatta committee will meet at the Union Hook & Ladder House this evening at 8 o'clock.

ANOTHER PUBLIC MEETING AT NEW WESTMINSTER.

REORGANIZATION OF THE CITY CORPORATION.

"Great Cry and Little Wool."

What is the chief duty of the mayor of New Westminster? To preside at public meetings. What is the chief end of every good citizen of New Westminster? To speak at public meetings. Do all good citizens get a chance to speak? No; they do not all get a chance to speak. Why? Because sometimes when a good citizen throws off his outer clothes and slaps his hat on the floor his steam rises to 110, or it may be to 120, pounds to the square inch and then some one threatens to fan him with a shillalegh and he is compelled to sit down without having been allowed to create a vacuum. When was the last meeting held at New Westminster? On Saturday night. Can you furnish a report of the proceedings of that gathering? Yes. Will you proceed to do so, omitting all reference to the Through to Yale matter? With pleasure; we condense from the Guardian:

On Saturday evening the meeting to learn the result of the labors of the caucus assembled at the Hyack Hall, Mayor Dickinson in the chair. Mr. Draper acted as secretary. The secretary read the platform prepared by the committee in a tone scarcely audible. The platform proposed the encouragement of a woolen mill by the granting of a bonus of $—; the repeal of license on mechanics and manufacturers; to avoid responsibility in dealing with the water front: to build a wharf for steam ferry purposes; to introduce a system of sewerage by sale of lots; to reduce tax on real estate; to abate nuisances; to investigate the finances; to improve the sanitary condition and ELEVATE THE MORAL TONE of the community.

Mrr Armstrong thought the woolen mill motion rather premature; Victoria, a place with three times our population and revenue, only granted five thousand dollars. He did not see the fun of outbidding Victoria for the maintaining of a woolen mill that would employ from 10 to 20 hands. There were not enough woolraisers in the country to run a mill such as required 6 months in the year. Being in the lumber business himself he favored subsidies for lumber mills.

Mr. Webster thought that $1,000 a year for 10 years and exemption from taxation say to at least $12,000 was pressing on the property holders.

Mr. Kennedy was surprised at Mr. Armstrong. If the people of this town wanted to remain as they were they would make no efforts to remove the stink, they would not encourage the woolen mill. He did not want Mr. Armstrong's remarks to go to the world, as they would think we were a helpless set. Personally he would not be taxed as heavily as others, but he and his family were here and could not get away, so that he was as much interested in the place.

Mr. Robson regretted the remarks of Mr. Armstrong. The committee did not approve the Victoria plan of a bonus, and adopted that of a yearly taxation. The taxpayers would only pay $1,000 when the mill had run 8 months in the year. If the mill did not run 8 months in the year, the ratepayers would not be obliged to pay the annual tribute. Mr. Armstrong must not think, after the wollen mill was started, our population would remain the few thousand it was at present, when wool could be had so cheap.

Mr. Armstrong thought, if we had to buy wool at the proposed price, we had better struggle on as we had done for the last 20 years. He had made enquiry into this matter, and from information received from people that knew the quantity of live stock in the country, he was convinced there could not possibly be woolenough to run the mill 4 months in the year.

Mr. Howison explained some portions of a woollen mill, and the divisions of labor, and, when in the business, he made more money than he had in any other.

Mr. Mathers said that he made a speech at the last meeting; somebody took the liberty to criticise, and he would say nothing.

A stranger, Mr. Morrison, said he hoped the meeting would allow him to say a few words. He was in the country 17 years ago and had just returned. The railroad was coming to the ocean as surely as the sun moves west; a season of prosperity would begin. When he was a boy a person started a woolen mill in a village in Canada, costing $80,000 and he is now a rich man. There were three kinds of wool on a sheep, and when he paid some farmers a York shilling per lb: more than others, people did not understand the matter; but they improved their stock and looked after their wool. He believed that everything God made was good and we ought not to throw away anything; we should plough our own fields.

Mr. Kennedy moved, and Mr. Howison seconded, that the sums of money in clause 1 be blank and left to the judgment of the Council.

The chairman put the question: a few said aye; the nays kept silent till election day.

Mr. Ferris thought, if we exempt mechanics and manufacturers from taxation, it would be difficult to raise a revenue.

Mr. Howison congratulated the committee of instruction how well they had dodged the only question of importance—the water frontages.

Mr. Armstrong would like to have added to the clause "That the city make every effort to get possession of the water front."

Mr. Ferris thought a committee that dodged the most important question should be careful to throw no insinuations against former Councils.

Mr. Kennedy said that he had requested Mr. Robson to remove "as heretofore done" from the platform, but he did not. The clause was got up to guard against the manner former councils had acted; he was present when Mr. Ferris moved a by-law to allow enclosed buildings on the wharf, and at a subsequent meeting moved to give his own resolution a 6 months' hoist. Such conduct would stultify any council. Mr. Ferris ought to have better manners than to interrupt gentlemen when speaking.

Mr. Ferris would say that Mr. Kennedy had made remarks regarding him that were not true. Mr. Kennedy was like the——

Mr. Kennedy to Chairman:—"Mr. Chairman, if you do not make that man sit down I shall commit a breach of the peace." He allowed no man to make remarks about him in a public meeting that he would not make in the street.

Mr. Ferris had seen dangers more dreadful, and Mr. Kennedy could not alarm him.

Mr. Kennedy—Mr. Chairman, if you do not know your duty and make that man sit down, I shall cross the room and strike him with my cane.

Mr. Ferris thought Mr. Kennedy's disposition was known.

"Keep to the question," said the chairman.

Mr. Armstrong, at the request of Mr. Robson, withdrew his motion.

When the question of free wharf for ferry was reached, Mr. Ewen said he came late, but, from what he learned, they had done away with all the taxes, and after giving money to a woolen mill, he did not see where they were to find money for a wharf. Farmers' boats or steamboats had a perfect right now, to land at any wharf, without charge, and wharfage could not be charged on small quantities of produce.

Mr. Robson said the government had a free wharf for the ferry at the other side of the river, and a steam ferry-boat would require a wharf here. The committee wanted to advise the new Council how to conduct the public business, but enacted no definite method.

It was unanimously resolved that the platform be deposited in the Council archives for the guidance of the new Council.

High School Examination.

The public examination of the high school took place yesterday and was highly creditable both to teachers and scholars. The morning examination comprised Latin, French, algebra, arithmetic, mensuration and history, on all of which subjects the scholars acquitted themselves well. The historical examination was thorough and dates, facts, &c., were given by the pupils with alacrity and correctness. At the afternoon examination there was a very large number of persons present; amongst the gentlemen were: The Hon. Beaven, Hon. T. B. Humphries, Messrs. Nicholson, Fell and Wilson, Rev. Mr. Smith and Mr. Spencer. The subjects taken were Euclid, geography and the globe, readings and recitations, music and songs.

The propositions in Euclid given were taken without the scholars having any previous knowledge as to which would be given, and were worked out in a manner which proved that the pupils had been thoroughly taught. The examination as to geography and the globe was equally creditable. The singing lessons, conducted by Mr. Offerhaus, were excellently rendered. The recitations by the Misses Barron, Anderson and Bell, Wm. Halliday and T. M. McLaughlin were heartily applauded. The essay by the Misses Bell, Andrews and Smith on "Good Education" were very creditable productions.

Mr. McKenize (superintendent of education) congratulated all parties interested upon the decided improvement in the school.

Hon. T.B. Humphreys, before presenting the prizes, expressed his gratification with the decided improvement in the school.

New Westminster.

[Herald.]

Mr. Marcus Smith came in from Burrard Inlet on Monday morning, and he went over again yesterday, accompanied by Mr. Trutch. Examinations are about to be made at Coal Harbor and English Bay.

Capt. McLean has carried to a successful completion a dyke enclosing 50 acres of land, but it has taken twenty years in time and four thousand dollars in money to do it. Capt. McLean says that, having paid for his experience, he could do the same thing cheaper now.

[Guardian]

There are quite a number of candidates, so it is said, for the Mayoralty, and our citizens must take care that no member of the ring that has weighed like a nightmare on this city succeeds in securing the civic chair. They must shake themselves clear of all the whole set, or as many of them as they can avoid.

A man named Cale met with a severe accident at the Royal City Planing Mills on Saturday left, by which he lost several fingers from having them cut with a saw.

Constable Miller brought in a sailor from the bark Don Nicholas, who had been committed by the magistrates at Burrard Inlet for two weeks, for refusing to do duty.

A HUGE black bear was encountered by Mr. K. McKenzie on Tuesday evening while that gentleman was on his way to Swan Lake upon horseback. When Mr. McKenzie came within 15 feet of him the bear rose on his hind legs, growled and leaping over a high fence disappeared in the field. Dogs were afterwards taken out; but they did not succeed in getting on his track.

PERSONAL.—Mr. A. Onderdonk and Mr. T. H. Allen were among the passengers for Yale by the Slope yesterday.

THE programme of the fireman's picnic appears to-day.

City Council.

WEDNESDAY, June 22.

Council met at 7:45 p. m. Present—Couns. Shakespeare, Smith, Boyd, Kinsman, McLean, Vigelius.

After the chairmanship had gone a begging for a while, Coun. Shakespeare took the chair.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From J. W. McKay, making application for permission to extend the water mains to his residence on the Fairfield estate.

Coun. McLean thought there would be some difficulty in getting the water to this locality.

Communication referred to the Water Works Com. to report at next meeting.

From the Inspector of Weights and Measures referring to certain arrangements for testing and verifying surveyors' and engineers' chains, steel ribbons, etc.; the Dominion Government to bear half the expense and the City Council the other half.

Received and application granted.

From C. Thorn accepting the offer of earth at 20 cents per load.

From W. Bennett, asserting that the bylaw with reference to the Union Club is wholly illegal and consequently refusing to pay a license or the tax on the billiard tables.

The collector explained that he had applied for the license and the tax on billiard tables, and that the communication just read was the result of that application.

Coun. Boyd remarked that the legislature at its last session had given the council power to tax clubs. He considered that the club retailed liquors the same as other houses and that it should be made to pay the license.

Coun. Vigelius moved that the communication be left in the hands of the finance committee and report at next meeting to get legal advice thereon. Seconded by Coun. Smith.

Coun. McLean was of opinion that the Government and the House knew perfectly well that the clauses taxing the club were unconstitutional and that nothing could be collected from it.

The chairman remarked that if the members of the club had a spark of public spirit in them they would pay the license. Motion carried.

From the Committee on races asking certain privileges on the race course on the 28th inst. Referred to Park Committee.

From the Commissioner of L. & W. stating that $250 legislature appropriation was being spent on Beacon Hill and asking advice as to how it should be expended. Referred to the Park Committee.

From R. Nuttall in reply to the question asked by the City Clerk as to the annual cost of operating the electric light and stated that $500 would be sufficient for operating the machinery and the purchase of carbons and fuel; but that fuller information would be furnished as soon as possible.

From W. Wilson on behalf of the Belmont Factory respecting a Chinese nuisance in the shape of a washhouse. Referred to Sanitary Committee

REPORTS.

From Survey Committee stating the result of a meeting with the survey commissioners. With reference to the Government street line the commissioners stated that the line was defined on the old official maps. On the city landing the commissioners strongly recommended that the question be submitted to arbitration. On the question of city levels they recommended that the city surveyor be instructed to finish that work and debit the surveyors with the cost.

Coun. Smith thought that the cost would be considerable and it was doubtful as to whether the Council should enter into it this year as the question of a sewerage system was involved.

The city surveyor considered that the levels should be established as soon as possible as there was nothing to guide the laying down of a sidewalk except the crown of the street which might be wrong.

Coun. Smith thought that the commissioners had done all the work expected of them and that they should be relieved and their work accepted. He would move to that effect.

Coun. McLean in seconding the motion remarked that if Messrs. Pemberton & Pearse had known what amount of work was before them they would not have undertaken the work.

Coun. Shakespeare moved in amendment, seconded by Coun. Vigelius, that a memorandum of which the following is a synopsis be forwarded to the commissioners: That the work of the commissioners was not complete and that much inconvenience and confusion had resulted from it. Several particulars in which the work was incomplete were enumerated. That the commissioners had misconstrued the act and in consequence the act had been invalidated; that their work had been altogether thrown away and that instead of money being due them they should pay damages for the expense they had brought upon the Council.

Coun. Vigelius was sorry that the whole Council had not met the commissioners; and suggested that all the Council should meet them and hold another conference. He thought that everything could be satisfactorily explained.

Coun. McLean was of opinion that the commissioners had done their duty well and that no good would result from another conference. It would be very wrong for the Council to throw any slurs upon the commissioners.

Coun. Smith entered into a long explanation of matters and things connected with the survey and the public landing. With reference to the latter, he said the commissioners had stated that there was 32 feet and the Council should maintain it; but he thought if the law was appealed to the question would be settled not according to the points of law but according to equity.

The chairman had no intention of throwing a slur on the commissioners. He only wished that the people should have a good survey of the city after having paid for it. He placed great stress upon the fact that Cridge & Mahood had laid down only 16½ feet for a public landing and the commissioners had made it 32 feet. The commissioners had sworn that they had verified the map compiled by Mr. D. Harris from the field notes of the surveyors, and yet they had changed the width of the landing.

Coun. Smith took a different view of the whole question and considered that Coun. Shakespeare was entirely at sea with reference to it. In concluding his remarks he stated that the work of surveying the city, instead of being only $3500, should have been $7000 or $8000.

Coun. Vigelius moved in amendment that the question be laid over till the return of the Mayor; that in the meantime another conference be held with the commissioners.

Coun. Smith withdrew his motion and Coun. Vigelius' amendment was carried.

Coun. McLean moved the following resolution, which he believed would settle forever the vexed question of the public landing: "That the Mayor be empowerd to effect an arrangement with Mr. James Yates or his agent to exchange the public landing for 35 feet at the foot of Yates street, free from all conditions and restrictions except that the public landing to the harbor and wharves shall be constructed at once at the joint expense of both parties. Plans for the above to be made by mutual arrangement." He was empowered to say that Mr. Gray would consent to the arrangement and assist in carrying it out.

Seconded by Coun. Kinsman.

Coun. Boyd was entirely opposed to the resolution and would move that it be not adopted.

Not seconded.

Coun. McLean's motion was then put and carried.

TENDERS.

For grading View street, that of H. Saunders, for $275, was accepted.

SECOND READINGS.

Water Works Engineer's appointment Bylaw was explained by the Chairman.

Coun. Smith, as chairman of the Water Works Committee, demurred to the second reading when he had not seen a copy of it at all. He would move that the second reading be deferred for one week.

Coun. McLean in seconding the motion hoped it would not only be deferred for one week but that it would be deferred for all time. It was a step in the wrong direction. Mr. Hendry was an officer who had performed his duties to the full satisfaction of the Council and it would be a gross injustice to him to change the bylaw.

The chairman remarked that he introduced the bylaw on principle and that in no part of the Dominion was such a thing known. He had nothing to say against Mr. Hendry, but the officers of the corporation should all be put on the same footing.

Coun. McLean replied to Coun. Shakespeare at some length. He wanted to see the Council above all political wirepulling and claptrap.

Coun. Boyd wanted an engineer who would manage the work of the streets and the water works as well. Mr. Hendry was only a pattern maker and not an engineer. He considered that time had come to use economy in the city finances and one officer should be employed to do the work of the two.

Coun. Vigelius thought all the officers should be placed on the same footing.

Coun. McLean's motion to defer was lost.

Council went into committee of the whole, Coun. Shakespeare in the chair.

Coun Boyd moved, seconded by Coun. Vigelius, that the bylay pass its second reading.

Couns. McLean and Smith eulogized the work done by Mr. Hendry and deprecated the idea of changing the bylaw.

After considerable time had been spent in discussing the matter the second reading was carried on the following vote: Ayes—Couns. Boyd, Kinsman and Vigelius. Noes:—Couns. Smith and McLean.

Bylaw to amend the Victoria Pound Bylaw was then read and passed its final reading.

Bylaw to amend the Sanitary Bylaw was next read and passed.

In passing the Water Works Engineer's Bylaw in open Council, Coun. Smith again asked for the names, which were accordingly put down as before.

The other bylaws were passed nem con.

An application from the contractor for Senator Macdonald's new building for leave to use a portion of Cormorant st. was granted.

Coun. McLean considered that the side walk amendment bylaw introduced by Coun Boyd was a very iniquitous one and he would move that a copy of it be supplied to each councillor and final action deferred for two weeks. Seconded by Coun. Smith and carried.

Council then adjourned.

Marine.

Ships Dorsat and Lady Bowen and barque Pacific Slope are loading at Hastings mills.

Ship Star of Brunswick and Don Nicholas are taking in lumber at Moodyville. The ship will carry 1,400,000 feet.

The steamship California, Capt. Carroll, arrived at the H. B. Co.'s wharf yesterday from Port Townsend and San Juan. She immediately commenced taking in freight and left for Portland at 5.15 p. m. Her outward passengers and freight list will be found under the usual heading.

Steamship Victoria passed up for New Westminster yesterday forenoon. The Enterprise met her near Plumper Pass where Pilot Ramsay went on board.

The steamer Alexander was to leave at 2 a. m. for Nanaimo. She will take a raft of timber from Chemainus to Departure Bay.

The ship City of Quebec will finish discharging freight to-morrow.

Barque Harvest Home on the 16th and ship Belvidere on the 19th sailed from San Francisco for Victoria.

MURDER OR SUICIDE. Last week at Nicomeer Reserve, near Sumas, an Indian beat his wife. The following morning the wife was found dead leaning against a tree, and a rope was loosely fastened to a branch over her head. She was reported to have hung herself; if so, how was it that the rope was not round her neck? It is stated that this is not the the first woman who has lost her life on account of the same man's ill-treatment. Cannot the law reach these wife-beaters and make an example of one or two on a reserve? The "cat" would do them good. Was an inquest held in this case? If not, why not?

A STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL will be held in the school-room of the First Presbyterian Church on Friday evening next (June 24th). Admission (including Strawberries and Cream) twenty five cents. *

FROM NEW WESTMINSTER.—The steamer Enterprise arrived at 3:15 yesterday afternoon with mails, passengers and freight. The steamship Victoria was met going up to New Westminster.

FROM NANAIMO.—The Wilson G. Hunt came in yesterday in the wake of the Enterprise from Nanaimo and way ports. She brought down a general freight and several passengers.

RE-ENGAGED.—A number of Mr. Onderdonk's former workmen who had left Yale intending to return to California re-engaged with that gentleman and returned to Yale on the Slope yesterday.

Two minutes at the police court yesterday polished off all the work on hand, namely one d. and d., who, not having the needful, was obliged to accept the other alternative.

THE Western Slope sailed again yesterday seven minutes before the advertised time, leaving three passengers behind. Regulate your clock, Captain Moore.

THE TIGERS had a wash last evening.

EXPLORER HORETZKSY AND HIS CHARGES

Against Sandford Fleming.

Following is the conclusion of Explorer Horetzksy's evidence before the Railway Commission:

"In February, 1879, I was requested by Sir Charles Tupper to assist in a final examination of the country lying between Skeena and Peace rivers, and when I declined again engaging in such arduous labour he pressed the matter upon me, and said, "Do this, and when you return all the years you have been employed upon the Pacific Railway will be counted in your favor." I thereupon assented, and was given by Mr. Fleming to understand that I should have full charge of the expedition, but a subsequent change was made in which Mr. Cambie was given full charge. In the face of incontestable documentary proof how could Mr. Fleming so far forget himself as to bear false witness against me in the way he has done? From 1872 to 1879 he has had ample opportunity to guage the value of my services, and if he had considered me an incapable his course in sending me out under such special instructions as he has himself written is beyond comprehension. The statement that I went out as a photographer is utterly untrue. I had a small camera with me and I took many photographic views during my numerous journeys, but I did so merely to please Mr. Fleming's taste for scenery and to help to embellish Rev. Mr. Grant's book "Ocean to Ocean." The cost of the work undertaken by me previous to 1879 was about $5,000. The cost of the work performed by me in 1879 was also about $5,000, but although similar in character as a work of exploration, it was vastly more difficult to carry into effect. Mr. Fleming's answer, as published in the official report, that I "went out as a photographer," is untrue. In 1871, which is "the first instance" referred to by Mr. Fleming, I was engaged as Mr. Frank Moberly's assistant in the preliminary exploration. I may say that had my system of survey in difficult regions been more generally adopted from the beginning, untold thousands of dollars would have been saved to the country." In concluding, Mr. Horetzky summarized his evidence thus:

"My argument is finished. I have given indisputable proofs that I did not go out as a photographer; that I have been employed upon special service; that such service has been performed in an able manner, and that had my cheap and simple method of obtaining information been used oftener, this Dominion would now be richer by a very large sum of money. Mr. Fleming's letters and memoranda of instruction to me, extending over the long period from 1872 up to 1880, are not reconcilable with his recent testimony. Could he have addressed such instructions to a person whose ability and integrity he doubted? And could he, having addressed to me such instructions, have lost his memory to such an extent as to scarcely remember whether I had been a mere photographer, or one of those "incapables" he seems to have delighted in. Mr. Fleming stands convicted of deliberate and malicious falsehood. His malevolence has been directed against me ever since I brought the "Pine Pass" under his notice. In doing so I unconsciously wounded his vanity, which could not brook the idea of any route not proposed by himself. His conduct, in my case, has been most inconsistent. After sending me in 1872 upon a special mission "to procure all possible information," he refused to accept that information, refused my report, refused my map, accepting instead the views and opinions of the botanist who accompanied my expedition and those of a lawyer who had compiled some information about the country from old Hudson Bay journals. Both proved themselves to have been most laughably in error. Since then Mr. Fleming has systematically gone to work to depreciate my services, and has sought, in his last general report, to credit Mr. Cambie with all the information about the Peace river, and, to cover up his own tracks, his unpardonable mistakes, by his inditing his celebrated letter of the 30th of September, 1879, to Sir C. Tupper. I have been the victim of his malevolence since 1873, when he dismissed me without rhyme or reason; in 1874, when he attempted to keep me off the work; in 1880, when he poisoned the mind of Sir C. Tupper against me; and now, when, despite his own letter of June, 1880, promising to recommend my claim for extra compensation on account of the work of 1879, to the favorable consideration of the minister, he refused to sanction its payment. That claim has not been paid. Last September I called upon Mr. C. Schreiber, who told me that the minister was ready and willing to pay the claim the moment Mr. Fleming gave his assent. Mr. Schreiber even went so far as to send Mr. Smith to Mr. Fleming's residence to get the matter put in shape. A day or so after Mr. Smellie reported to Mr. Schreiber, in my presence, that Mr. Fleming refused to act. I have been able to obtain no satisfaction, and never shall, so long as Mr. Fleming pulls the wires behind the scenes.

"I have nothing further to say of relevance to this particular issue. I think I have made out my case, but I may respectfully point out to this commission that they have yet much to learn with respect to the frightful extravagance and gross incapacity which have reigned. There are other important matters also to which I shall draw attention privately."

IMPROVEMENT.—Mr. Sam'l Clay, grocer, at the Blue Post, is doubling his storeroom. A sure sign of prosperity.

THE close season for salmon fishing on Fraser river is from 12 m. on Saturday till 6 p. m. on Sunday.

FALLING.—Fraser river is falling. The water receded 7 or 8 feet at Yale on Tuesday.

YALE will celebrate the 4th of July in a railway excursion to Emory City and a grand ball there.

HON. MR. TRUTCH returned from an inspection of the Yale-Savona railway yesterday.
